

(Eyes closed)
naked

also do one of residual sounds / waves after tanker, airplane

Chaos graph of the sound the tide at wreck beach makes coming in. Long, straight lines are uniform sounds, though some crescendo as they move audibly from right (my) to left. The waves are smaller, little gurgles heard at the periphery. \circ are wellings.
At first I used my highlighting crayon, beginning at the top of the page & working down towards my ear.
But the marks which I couldn't get the flourishes or dynamics in the page being small, I couldn't get the effect using the whole So I tried again w/ pencil (non-mech) using waves crashing, or turning over their limit. Further away are casting marked by "top" & sounds closer appear at the bottom nearer to me.
(next time I'll use both pencils at once
loudness was marked
in gray intensity.
Thickize
crashing

